MEDIA DATA 2007

Chemical Vapor Deposition (ISI Impact Factor 2005: 2.367) is the only journal devoted exclusively to the field, publishing Communications, Full Papers, and Reviews on all aspects of chemical vapor deposition. Special Issues on specific topics within the field are also published regularly. CVD is the leading journal in the category Materials Science: Coatings and Films, and is published monthly, providing a unified forum for chemists, physicists, and engineers.

CVD concentrates on the chemistry, physics, analysis, and engineering of the precursors, systems, and thin- and thick-film products employed by or resulting from chemical vapor deposition, a discipline that has applications in coatings, electronics, and nanotechnology.
